Unit backers lend support to schools

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Proponents of the Lake Villa unit district proposal, which was defeated last week in every school district, approached Antioch Community High School Board of Education members at the board meeting in the spirit of reconciliation. The proponents spoke of their wish to put this behind them and to work together with the affected school districts in addressing the problems facing each school.

"I'm here in the spirit of reconciliation," said Don Mertic, who was a school board candidate for the new district. "The voters have spoken. Now it is time to face the problems and go forward."

Residents want access to information

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Township Annual Town Meeting was held Tuesday night with 13 people present, however, Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields and Trustees Rich Kufalk and Tim Osmond and Road Commissioner Mark Ring were not. Moderator Bill Thompson was selected and approved by the electorate.

The Supervisor's report was read, although copies of the report were not available to the audience. "It (the report) would have been available, but the final audit is not complete," explained Antioch Township Clerk Dick Harlan. "It will be available when it is done and will be posted. While the audit has been completed, we do not have the final results."

According to the oral report, the total road fund revenue for the township is $746,585. Starting balance in the road fund was $344,241 and disbursements to $801,738. Final fund balance $289,788.

In the general fund the remaining balance is $81,882 and an ending balance in the special fund of $336,769. Starting balance in the general fund was $131,765, revenue of $304,441, disbursements of $354,324.

When asked if this included all the township money, Harlan quipped, "That includes all of the savings. There is no hidden money anyplace."

After financial matters concluded, Moderator Thompson entertained comments from the audience. Judy Martini, Antioch's County Board member and township resident, asked if the board planned to approve a resolution in opposition to the closing of the Kiley Center in Waukegan. Martini was told she needed to address the full board on that question.

Then a discussion began regarding the policy of the township to require the filing of Freedom of Information Requests in order for residents to get board action information.

"These kinds of things have a tendency to limit resident participation on town government," said Roy Sackschewsky, a township resident and president of Alliance for Better Government. "Or, don't we want people to participate? I think township government is important and I think opening it up will generate more participation."

Thompson seemed surprised by the Township's policy regarding information. "There are more people sitting in this room than I can ever remember at a school board budget meeting," said Thompson. "I'm sorry, I didn't know. You're talking about piddly dollars."

"If I was in the township, I wouldn't put up with it," Thompson continued. "To me, this is taxpayers' money. It is hard to believe you need an FOIA."

Trustee Claudette Skvarce seemed to agree with Thompson's assessment. Skvarce has been a proponent of a more open government at the township. While the subject of document access had been See INFORMATION page A10

Post office helps out on Tax Day

Antioch Postmaster Thomas Prince would like to remind Antioch residents April 17 is tax day. Tax returns or extension applications must be postmarked by midnight April 17 to avoid possible penalties.

In an effort to help out those last minute filers, the post office boxes in front of the Antioch Post Office and the box on Toft Avenue will be collected at midnight. Tax forms mailed by the pick up time will be postmarked April 17.

At Victory, we stick to the latest surgical techniques.

Endoscopic surgery, frequently referred to as "band-aid" surgery, has become the surgery of choice for many procedures. Patients appreciate the shorter stay (often outpatient or overnight), the smaller scar and the faster recovery time that endoscopic surgery can offer.

Although endoscopic surgery is not for everyone, it is being widely used in a variety of areas including gynecology, general surgery, gastroenterology, TMJ, orthopedics, urology and sinus surgery.

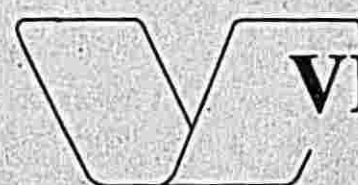

Other applications are on the horizon.

Additional minimally invasive procedures are performed for ophthalmology, neurosurgery and otolaryngology (ENT). Ask your doctor to recommend a surgeon who practices at Victory Memorial or call Physician Referral at 1-800-THE CHOICE (843-2464).

We'll supply the band-aid.

Agency moves to new location

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

The Fox Waterway Agency is finally under roof at its new facility.

Agency employees worked many hours last Monday, their first day in the old Hidden Cove Marina site, and the rest of the week, in order to get things organized and set up.

Karen Kabbes, executive director for the Agency, expressed how she and the rest of the staff feel. "We're so excited," exclaimed Kabbes.

Never mind the price tag of $736,000 which was fought over by a couple of concerned residents and real estate people. Kabbes said the deal for the marina with its waterfront location, 40-plus piers, and a building just under 10,000-square feet proves the price was right.

"It's definitely great to be in one location," said Kabbes who explained previously there were three. For years the Agency office was on Grand Ave., their marine base where large equipment was stored was on Nippersink, and another site was in Spring Grove used for a warehouse.

Concerned resident and former ship captain, Don Kolner agrees with the new spot. Kolner believes the location on Rte. 12 will save the Agency money in the long run.

The marina, said Kolner, is ready to use for Agency purposes and it is blessed with not only having the equipment needed, but also being centrally located for uses from the north end of the Chain O' Lakes, down to the Fox River.

"They're lucky to get that good a place," Kolner said.

"It's like a dream come true," added a smiling executive director. Kabbes explained that boaters can actually drive up in their vessels and come into the office where they may purchase their boat stickers. The Agency operates from user fees from the stickers.

Students get a day of career experience

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

With over 60 professional participants, students and their mentors-for-a-day met for an early morning breakfast at Antioch Community High School before the pairs set off for a day at work. In a joint effort by the Antioch Rotary Club and Antioch Community High School, senior students were matched with professionals in many fields for the Senior Career Shadow Program.

The program offers an opportunity for young people to spend a day with a person in a chosen occupation, getting a real sense of what it's like to work in a particular job. "I would like to thank the members of the Rotary Club for taking on the program," said Director of Guidance Dr. William Bassitt at the breakfast. "Service is probably the greatest gift you can give anyone."

Business people and professionals from all over the area were invited to participate, sending in a reply form. In this way, a list of potential careers were developed and students were matched to their particular interests.

The keynote speaker at the breakfast was Ray Scarpelli of the Antioch Rotary Club. Scarpelli is also the owner of Raymond Chevy Olds Geo. Scarpelli told the group of his beginnings in the car sales business and offered some advice to the young people.

"Find an occupation you enjoy," said Scarpelli. He cautioned students to dress properly and do a little research. "Remember, you never get a second chance on a first impression."

After the breakfast, the student-professional pairs set off for a day at work. Students were returned to school at 2:30 and will then fill out a survey regarding their experiences. It is hoped the day at work will help students make more informed career choices.

Irish American Dance

A dance held by the Irish American Club will be held on April 29 from 6:30 p.m. to midnight at the Lake Villa VFW. Ticket cost is $25 per person and includes dinner and entertainment by the McNulty Dancers and the Donnybrook Band. The public is invited to attend. Call 395-3942 or 395-4644 for ticket information.

German American Dance

The annual membership drive dance of the German American Club of Antioch will be held on April 22 at the Antioch Golf Course. Reservations are required. Call 356-5484 for more information. The Tempos will be providing musical entertainment.

Township hosts energy program

Antioch Township will play host on April 15 from 1 to 4 p.m. to Commonwealth Edison's energy conservation program. A brief film will be shown and energy conservation kits will be distributed free. Call 395-3378 for more information. The event will be held at the Township Hall at 99 Route 173 in Antioch.

School Fun Fair

On April 21, a fun fair will be held at St. Peter's School. First prize for the raffle will be a season's pass graciously donated by Wilmot Mountain. Second and third prizes are two huge stuffed animals. Tickets for the raffle are available from any 8th grade student.

New park to be named

The Antioch Park Commission is accepting suggestions for a name for the park located at Antioch Manor North. Anyone with suggestions for the Commission should call 395-2160 or send suggestions to the Parks Department at 874 Main Street, Antioch.

Spring play

Antioch Community High School is presenting "Up the Down Staircase" on April 28 and 29. Performance begins at 7:30 p.m. and the public is encouraged to attend.

Save animals lives by walking your dog

Help save the lives of canines and felines by walking your dog in the popular Dog-a-Thon at the Moraine Hills State Park.

On April 30, the event will take place for the Pets in Need animal shelter in Ringwood. The shelter has been forced by the McHenry County Circuit Court to close its doors by Oct. 2.

The shelter is in a residential area, and it would have to be operated in an area with the proper zoning.

Throughout the year, owners Pat and Rudy Klimo have held a number of fund raisers to help them move to a new location, which would save the pets from being destroyed.

"If we don't get out of here, and raise the money, McHenry County can come in and destroy the animals," said a tearful Pat. "I feel the judge has sentenced the animals to death. We're fighting for their lives."

The Dog-a-Thon is for anyone who wishes to bring their vaccinated pet on a leash, and walk it through the park on either a 3-mile or a 7-mile hike.

Check-in begins at noon, and the walk starts at 1 p.m. No dogs in heat are allowed.

Call the shelter for the pledge sheets on the Dog-a-Thon.

If you can't help out by joining in on the Dog-a-Thon, you may assist with desperately needed items for the shelter including paper towels, bleach, disinfectant, Friskies Kitten Dinner, dog and cat food (dry and canned), white marlite panels, wooden stockade fencing, wire dog crates, commercial vacuum, laundry detergent, dog water buckets and much more.

The Klimos are pleading with people for the donation of a pole barn, a well, and septic field as well for their new facility.

Please call the shelter at (815) 728-1462 with any donations.

There is also a fund set up at the First National Bank of McHenry. Donations may be sent to the First National Bank of McHenry, 3814 W. Elm St., McHenry IL 60051.

Although the shelter is looking at raising around $100,000 Pat said every dollar counts.

She reminds residents everywhere that not only does the Pets in Need serve people from McHenry County but all the counties in the area. Many customers come from Fox Lake and Antioch, and even Mundelein.—by TINA SWIECH

Dinner, auction to benefit St. Peter

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

St. Peter School in Antioch will be holding its 3rd Annual Auctioneer's Nite on April 22 starting at 6 p.m. The money raised from this fund raiser will benefit St. Peter Grade School.

There are a large number of items being offered this year. However, donations are still coming in.

Some of the highlights include a basket of Mary Kay products, several wood carvings, and a Ski Chariot (for water) donated by Webb's Marina.

Football lovers will be putting their bids in for the four Chicago Bears versus Minnesota Vikings tickets donated by Thelen Sand and Gravel. For a more elegant evening, the Marquenski and Werba families have donated surf and turf for eight.

Basketball fans should keep their eyes on the basket filled with Bulls items (boy sizes) donated by Steve and Diana Thelen.

Numismatists will be thrilled by the donation from the Drs. Thain. Those with children may want to bid on the one year membership at Camp Hastings YMCA, donated by Judy Coma. And, don't miss the 10 5-foot evergreen trees donated by Herman Behm.

Cocktails kick off the event at 6 p.m. and a dinner buffet will follow. The buffet is being catered by Maravella's.

The auction will be held at 8 p.m. and entertainment by Grease will be provided until midnight. The auctioneer for the evening will be Herman Behm.

Tickets for the dinner are available in advance or patrons can purchase them at the door. The cost is $9. For more information call Wayne Sobczak at 395-1010.

Kids day at Dairyland Greyhound Park

Children will be the VIP's on Saturday, April 15 at Dairyland Greyhound Park. An entire afternoon performance has been planned out in the VIP room which includes a $2 Kids Meal and loads of activities for children.

The royal treatment begins when they enter. While supplies last, children will have a choice of Dairyland sunglasses or a sport safe, Jelly Belly packages and a coupon for Good Humor Lick-A-Color bars.

Storytelling, magic by Bob Bohm, a visit from a retired greyhound and prize giveaways will round out the afternoon. The grand prize is a "family night out" package at the Days Inn in Kenosha. This will include two adjoining rooms, a Flintstones video, and Flintstone Fun Packs for each child.

Other prizes include Flintstone plush toys, Flintstone Fun Packs, 25 Sega Genesis and 25 Super Nintendo video games, as well as a few mystery prizes.

To get to the park, take 94 north to Wisconsin Highway 50. Head east on 50 and follow the signs to the park. Doors open at 11:45 a.m. and activities begin at noon.

CLC offers basics of boating safety class

An all-day program covering the basics of boating safety will be sponsored by the Illinois Dept. of Conservation from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. April 15 at the College of Lake County, Room A162, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake. The class will be repeated at the same time on May 13.

Taught by Leonard March, an instructor for the U.S. Coast Guard

Auxiliary for 20 years, the boating safety course (GST 038) will include instruction in rules on the water, Illinois boating law, first aid, boating construction and design and other related topics to help participants become safe boaters. A boating safety certicate will be issued to persons who successfully complete the course.

Course fee is $1, plus $5 materials fee, payable to the instructor on the first class. For information, contact the continuing education office at 223-3616. To register, call 223-6601, ext. 2573.

National-Louis Univ. offers MAT program

National-Louis Univ. will host a meeting May 8 to discuss its master of arts in teaching program, which will be offered in Lake County in the fall.

The meeting begins at 5:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room at Woodland Middle School, 17371 Gages Lake Rd., Gages Lake. The MAT program is designed for those individuals who hold an undergraduate degree in a field other than education and wish to enter the teaching profession. It is offered through the university's National College of Education. The location of the Lake County program will be announced at a later date. For further information, call 465-0575, ext. 5027.

School BRIEFS

Traffic flow at lower grade

A reminder to parents of students at Antioch Grade School. Cars exiting out of the school parking lot must turn right onto Main Street. Those needing to go southbound need to travel north on Main and turn around on one of the side streets.

Golf clubs needed

The Antioch Community High School Physical Education Department is in need of additional golf equipment. Donations of usable individual golf clubs or sets will be put to excellent use. Any help would be greatly appreciated! Call 395-1421, ext. 246.

Woman's Club scholarship

The Antioch Junior Woman's Club is offering a $500 scholarship to anyone residing in Antioch Township who is or will be a full-time student at a two or four-year college. Applications are available at the Antioch Village Hall, Antioch Township Library, Antioch Community High School guidance office and the College of Lake County. Deadline for completed applications is April 21.

Engineering club to launch mousetrap boat contest

Boats powered only by a mousetrap spring will be featured in the College of Lake County engineering club's Mousetrap Boat Contest from 1 to 3 p.m. April 12 in the main lobby of the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

Fifty contestants will participate in the contest. Winners will be determined by the distance each boat travels in a three-meter-long water trough. The event is designed to spark creative thinking and bring engineering theories to life, said Toby Ward, physics instructor and engineering program coordinator at CLC. "The competition provides a practical and fun way for everyone, especially engineering students, to learn the principles of engineering," Ward said.

While the boat race is being conducted for the first time, the engineering club has sponsored a popular mousetrap car competition for the last five years and an egg drop contest last year. Cash awards and other prizes will be awarded to winners. Viewing of the event is open to the public. For information, call Ward at 223-6601, ext. 2490.

Shop Antioch Take a Sunday stroll

Antioch merchants would like to invite you to a Sunday stroll through town. Now that spring is officially here, many of us will enjoy a leisurely stroll through downtown Antioch on Sundays. Many merchants are open on Sundays to provide you with a pleasant way to spend your day.

Perhaps you'd like to start with a leisurely breakfast at one of Antioch's area restaurants. Remember, you should take small bites and chew each bite 32 times to help digestion. After breakfast (or an early lunch if you enjoy sleeping late), plan on visiting the many shops that are now open on Sundays.

The following is a list of most shops open on Sundays: Ace Hardware, Antioch True Value, Antioch Schwinn, Baskin-Robbins, Ben Franklin, Big Gun Enterprises, BJ's Fashions for Men, Brans Nut Co., Choosey Child, Clothes Connection, Collection Connection, Dairy Queen, Grandpa Jack's Little Red Kettle, Innovative Screen Printing Emporium, JJ Blinkers, Kathy's Cottage, N-Scale, Party Poppers, Patricia's Amish Furniture, Pinetree Pet Store, The Tulip Patch and Tribes.

After visiting all these shops, you've probably worked up a thirst, so stop by Baskin-Robbins or Dairy Queen for a refreshing ice cream treat.

Editor's note: Shop Antioch is a weekly newsletter showcasing Antioch's merchants and retailers. Prepared and written by Barbara Porch of Choosey Child.

Earth Week clean-ups to brighten forest preserves

In honor of the 25th anniversary of Earth Day, community clean-ups are planned at six Lake County Forest Preserves beginning Monday, April 17, through Friday, April 21, from 3:30 to 5 p.m. each day.

Adults and children over eight years are invited to join in the free Earth Week clean-ups. Volunteers should wear sturdy shoes, long pants and work gloves. Trash bags will be provided. Reservations are required. For directions to the clean-ups listed, and to make your reservation, call 948-7750.

Volunteers are needed to help put an Earth Week shine on the following forest preserves: Grant Woods Forest Preserve near Fox Lake on Monday, April 17; Half Day Forest Preserve near Vernon Hills on Tuesday, April 18; Waukegan Savanna Forest Preserve near Waukegan; and Buffalo Creek Forest Preserve near Buffalo Grove and Long Grove on Wednesday, April 19; Lyons Woods Forest Preserve near Waukegan and Beach Park on Thursday, April 20; and Greenbelt Forest Preserve near Waukegan and North Chicago on Friday, April 21.

For information on other Lake County Forest Preserve Earth Day activities, call the Lake County Forest Preserves at 367-6640.

National-Louis Univ. offers MAT program

National-Louis Univ. will host a meeting May 8 to discuss its master of arts in teaching program, which will be offered in Lake County in the fall.

The meeting begins at 5:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room at Woodland Middle School, 17371 Gages Lake Rd., Gages Lake. It is offered through the university's National College of Education. The location of the Lake County program will be announced at a later date. For further information, call 465-0575, ext. 5027.

Grant Township and county officials were on-hand for the ground breaking ceremony for expansion of Grant Woods Forest Preserve April 7. Improvements include construction of three miles of hiking, biking, cross-country skiing and snowmobiling trails which will connect to the southern section of Grant Woods at Monaville Road and a 40-car parking lot. From left: James LaBelle, president, Lake County Forest Preserve; Betty Nieml, Grant Township assessor; Jack Klesgen, Grant Township highway commissioner; Ed Fojtik, county board member; Gordon Klesgen, Grant Township supervisor; Bob Neal, county board member; Diana O'Kelly, county board member; Judy Martini, county board member.

Improvements underway at Grant Woods

Work was expected to begin this week on construction of a trail and other public access facilities at the northern section of Grant Woods Forest Preserve following the official ribbon cutting ceremony, Feb. 7.

"A lot of work went into the design of the preserve," said Ed Fojtik, county board member. "The trails will be on the interior away from the residential areas. This is a great addition to the community."

Improvements at Grant Woods include the construction of three miles of hiking, biking, cross-country skiing and snowmobiling trails, with a trail connection to the southern section of Grant Woods at Monaville Road, and a 40-car parking lot at a cost of $278,039.

"This is a terrific site. I think people will get a lot of use out of the new trails for hiking, biking and jogging," said Jim LaBelle, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve. "It will be an easy trail to use."

A sign at the construction site tells residents improvements are being funded by the successful 1993 bond referendum.

"I think it is important people see the benefits of improving the referendum," Fojtik said.

The northern 230 acres of the preserve was purchased in 1990 and consists primarily of abandoned agricultural fields and old nursery remnants. There are 8 acres of wetlands and 45 acres of oak woodlands on the northern section of the preserve. The location of trails and other improvements will be routed to protect the natural resources and restoration efforts will be part of the future site improvements.

Completion is expected late this summer.

Board views future technology — NEW ARRIVALS

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education got a glimpse of the future last week. The Technology Committee gave a presentation and recommendations for upgrading computer technology at the school.

The committee includes seven school department heads and 12 faculty members, who meet twice a year to discuss the current status of technology at ACHS. Their mission statement is "Antioch Community High School will provide students and staff the technology and the technological skills necessary to access and process information in order to prepare them for success in an information society," Assistant Mick Torres began the presentation.

According to Torres, feeder school students are coming into the high school with greater computer skills than in the past. "We have students who have completed three years of comprehensive computer training," explained Torres. Torres believes simple keyboarding skills will not be enough for students.

Torres also told the board, faculty members are also beginning to use more advanced computers in the classrooms. An example of a physics program was demonstrated to the board using a Macintosh laptop and an overhead projector.

The school currently has two computer labs containing 48 IBM compatible personal computers, with 286 and 386 microprocessors and 2 megabytes of memory. While this allows the computers to run DOS applications, none are able to use the current technology of Windows, requiring students to learn function commands instead of graphical point-and-click mouse choices.

The school also has 24 IBM compatibles running AutoCad programs for drafting. In addition, some students have access to Macintosh computers: journalism department has 16, yearbook staff has 12, the library 3, and 4 older Mac's for student writing.

The school also has 51 Apple IIe and Apple IIGS in an undedicated computer lab, where teachers can bring students to perform specific tasks or basic word processing. According to the report, these computers are very outdated and provide only limited benefits to students.

"The Apple computers are almost completely outdated," explained Torres. "We have 51 of them getting dusty."

The general administration has a central file server with 23 workstations of various types. While older systems, the computers can run WordPerfect and SchoolMaster, very few are running Windows. Faculty has 14 Mac systems spread out through various departments to track student attendance, manage grades, and other records. Only 6-8 Macs are available to be used by teachers in an instructional setting.

Torres told the board teachers prefer using Mac operating systems. "It's easy to learn and does not require a specific language," said Torres. He said teachers especially like, "Its ability to make presentations. Teachers are using it. They are strong proponents of Mac."

Upgrading the business labs are a priority for the Technology Committee. "We recommend two new DOS based labs for business education," said Torres. He estimates the cost for each lab to be between $80,000 and $90,000 each.

The board was then shown a state-of-the-art computer work station. "These are designed ergonomically," said Torres. "The screen is angled so that the typing and viewing angle are the same. They have electromagnetic wave filters to protect eyes. A dual platform - students can write on the surface. No wires, no huge monitors."

The work stations would share printers and would be networked. The cost estimates include the support furniture.

The Technology Committee also hopes to have a multi-purpose learning center which would use a Mac operating system and allow for telecommunications. "I'm letting the cat out the bag here," joked Torres. "We do have an internet grant. We would be using the internet hub in Libertyville."

Torres also told the board he hopes a staff purchase incentive program can be put into place. "An extended payment plan, perhaps through a payroll deduction," Torres showed and demonstrated the computer his wife, a teacher, purchased through a similar plan. "It enabled her to become a completely different teacher," he explained.

The board was then treated to an internet demonstration by teacher Tom Herziger. "We do have, currently, some access to the internet," he said. Herziger showed the board how to connect to a remote site using a Gopher on American Online.

Torres told the board the new Macs have the ability to use dual platforms, both Mac and DOS. "Mac is now selling DOS compatible cards, which allow a switch from Mac applications to DOS applications."

"Our dream is to have a computer in every classroom," said Torres. "To allow students to develop their own programs to meet their own needs."

Lake Villa folk artist Grunewald is 'just plain folks'

PAT WEISS

Correspondent

"There hasn't been a time in my life when I didn't want to draw." So said folk artist Catherine Grunewald when asked how she first became aware of her artistic leanings. Catherine, who bears a striking resemblance to the brown-haired girls she often depicts in her drawings, knew at an early age that the art world was beckoning to her.

Growing up on the family farm in Lake Villa, she developed a strong sense for bucolic serenity and a keen eye for detail. The farm animals that were an important part of her everyday life eventually played a major role in her drawings. One peek at her pen and ink originals and you'll soon discover her love of animals and her playful sense of humor. Using wit and whimsy she has propelled her creativity into a high quality art line.

A few years ago Catherine and her husband/partner, John Ullrich traded in their renovated barn/farm house in Wauconda for 18 acres of rustic charm in tiny Alden, Ill. At the same time they were establishing their own publishing company, which enabled them to create and control a distinctive art line. Grunewald Folk Art & Publishing issues 12-15 new works of art a year, reproduced at the actual size they were originally drawn. Offset lithographs are produced on neutral pH stock with environmentally safe non-fade inks. Editions are small, limited to 750, to ensure collectability.

Catherine is self-taught and has never had any formal training, just a ton of natural talent and a marvelous eye for detail. While attending Antioch High School she was championed by teacher Jane Craner, who became a loyal encourager all through high school. "I have been so lucky," Grunewald smiles, "I have had such terrific support from friends and family throughout my career." Life with 9 siblings was filled with fun and family values, which permeates her drawings and her children's book, "Folk Heart Tales."

"There was a lot of teasing and a lot of love expressed around our house," Catherine muses. "My mom would always insist we sit down together for dinner every night and talk about our day. It was a special time to elaborate on dreams, too. I remember my brother's reaction to my announcement that I was going to be an artist," she laughed. "He was horrified. 'But Cathy, artists don't make money!' he proclaimed. We still laugh about that."

Catherine's talent soon became apparent to everyone. For five years she worked as a freelance artist for a major company, while employed as an advertising artist for a city newspaper. One of her favorite undertakings was a two-year restoration of a biblical museum. This while she worked part-time as a billboard painter. Her successes grew. An international healthcare firm commissioned several series, marking a record in its advertising department. Following her dreams and her gift, she continued drawing in her free time.

The Museum of American Folk Art commissioned some of her original works, which in turn led to the development of a greeting card line by a major publisher, along with other publishing agreements with two large businesses and, eventually, to formation of her own publishing company.

She's currently working on a line of Royal Doulton China plates for Franklin Mint. The first one, "Pasture Pals," is already out. More information can be obtained by calling 1-800-The-Mint.

Catherine and John's picturesque hideaway will be featured in an upcoming issue of Country Living Magazine. She has also been featured in U.S. Art, the Chicago Tribune and on Channel 7. Her artwork is carried by The Country Framer in Libertyville and its sister shop in Long Grove.

What is the secret to her success? What single force has inspired and motivated this very talented lady? "I don't mean to be repetitious, but I have truly been blessed with support and encouragement from all sides—friends, family, my best friend and supporter, my husband John. From as far back as I can remember, there has always been someone in my corner urging me on and allowing me the freedom to express myself," Catherine responded.

But creativity, commissions and insight aside, Catherine's major concern right now is what to wear to the White House for an Easter weekend breakfast. You see, she was commissioned by the National Egg Foundation to design an Easter Egg to be presented to President Clinton and the First Lady, which will remain on permanent display in the Clinton Library.

Catherine and John will be present on the White House lawn for the traditional Easter festivities. It's quite a journey from a farm house in Lake Villa to the steps of the Capitol, but Catherine Grunewald's creativity has made it seem like a country mile.

"May all of your dreams come true" displays Grunewald's lighthearted outlook and her love of the rural life.

Congressman speaks to Richmond crowd

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A special guest highlighted the Richmond/Spring Grove Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Congressman Donald Manzullo (R-16) spoke to a crowd of Chamber members and visitors at the Doyle's Pub & Eatery on Mill St.

He began with some historical anecdotes, relaxing the gathering, even telling a few jokes now and then.

Manzullo ended his yarn with a message. "The nation that forgets history, repeats it," said the United States representative. "We don't want to repeat the mistakes," urged the congressman.

He spoke about the "Congressional Accountability Act" which was passed recently in the country's capitol. Within three weeks, President Bill Clinton signed the Act which Manzullo said he was in agreement with.

The Act basically holds congress responsible for the laws they pass, explained Manzullo. "You don't just come up with regulations because they sound nice," said the representative, "you also have to stand by them."

Another issue Manzullo touched upon is that of tax increases. The congressman said he believes people are being simply overtaxed and he would like to see it made possible not to have any more of the increases.

Manzullo then answered questions from audience members on an issue called "Employee Commuter Option" or ECO.

The congressman said he's not in favor of the option, and said he's "been fighting with the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) for months on it."

"McHenry County leads the nation in peeling back the impact of ECO," said Manzullo. He went on to praise McHenry County, and he said they are the ones responsible for making the EPA back off on the issue.

school board candidate, and former Committee of Ten member was also on hand to say a few words.

"I would like to offer my help," she told the school board, "towards finding a solution."

While there is not going to be a new school district in Lake Villa, area schools involved in the district proposal must still find a way to cope with increasing growth and shrinking dollars. In addition, all parties agree, improved communications between the area high schools and feeder schools must be addressed.

Towards that end, on Wednesday, April 12, a dinner was to be held for all administration and school boards of the feeder schools. New ACHS Superintendent Dennis Hockney will be present to meet with the feeder school teams.

Hockney, age 51, is the former superintendent of schools at the Madeira City School District, outside of Cincinnati, Ohio. At one time he was a principal at Tinley Park.

The ACHS board gratefully accepted the offers of help from the various unit district factions. "We want to move positively and together," ACHS Board President Laurel Dahl assured the group.

township board) judgment does not belong to the audience."

In any event, Harlan assured residents a copy of the Supervisor's report will be available. "We just didn't want to pass out incorrect information," he said.

As the meeting adjourned, Thompson quipped, "I bet they won't ask me to be moderator again."

Camp Fire program to start in Fox Lake

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A longtime organization is making a comeback to Fox Lake, and the kickoff is this weekend.

Up until a few years ago, the Camp Fire Boys and Girls program was held in Fox Lake under the Letohe Council.

Linnea Pioro and her family are new residents of Fox Lake, and she is working to begin the Camp Fire Boys and Girls program in her home base.

For the past 14 years she has volunteered for the not-for-profit organization, and the past six years she's served as program administrator for the Metropolitan Chicago Council.

Two years ago both councils merged. Pioro explained that the "Chicago Council" isn't intended just for city kids. They now serve Lake and McHenry counties as well.

On Saturday a Camp Fire kickoff will be held at the Fox Lake Community Center on 79 Keystone from 10 a.m. to 11:30.

Pioro invites all interested residents to attend, and not only those from Fox Lake. Those from Round Lake, Ingleside, and Antioch are also welcome.

If there's a big enough turnout from other areas, Pioro said she would seriously consider starting up a Camp Fire program in those communities as well.

Pioro, who still works with Camp Fire kids in Chicago, is hoping that by the summer, she'll have recruited enough volunteers in Fox Lake to have the program running smoothly.

The Camp Fire organization just celebrated its 85th anniversary last month. It services more than 4,000 boys and girls throughout the Metropolitan Chicago area, and over 700,000 kids of all ages nationwide.

Founded in 1910 by Dr. Luther Gulick and his wife Charlotte, the old image of Camp Fire as young girls sitting around a camp fire is as archaic as dinosaurs.

In fact, Camp Fire started serving boys in 1975 and now over 35 percent of its members are young boys.

The program helps foster self-esteem, develop decision making skills and provide a positive support system for youth.

The organization caters to kids 5 through 18 years of age. The Star Flight group is for those in kindergarten, first and second grades; the Adventure Club is for third, fourth and fifth graders; the Discover group aims towards kids in sixth, seventh and eighth grades; and the Horizon group is for students in all four years of high school.

Projects such as the camping program, community service program, and also special events are among some of the things the Camp Fire kids work on.

Pioro's daughter has become interested in the Camp Fire organization as well, and often works along with her mother. Both women have won some very prestigious awards through their longtime commitment and dedication.

While she is modest not to boast about the citation, Pioro said she feels honored to have been presented with the "Luther Halsey Gulick" named after the founder, which is the highest adult national recognition award.

If you would like to be a volunteer with the Camp Fire organization, or would just like to find out more about it, call Linnea Pioro at (708) 587-6169 or (312) 263-6218.

discussed at regular township meetings, Skvarce said, "No resolution has been made on this issue. I was the dissenter on this issue."

The issue of releasing a copy of the township bills to be paid was also discussed. "It doesn't seem to me there should be any problem," said Thompson. "But, the questioning of their (the

New Grayslake coach, players set to learn as softball squad

A learning experience for both player and coach will be the theme as Grayslake High looks to be a darkhorse factor in the Northwest Suburban Conference softball race.

"I told the girls I have played a lot of softball for a summer team and coached freshmen last year, but this is the first time for me as varsity coach. I thought I had some pregame jitters, too," Coach Carla Carmody said.

The Rams hand not settled on a set lineup before a 15-5 season opening loss to Grant.

Carmody said winning is not the end all priority for her. "I want them to have fun and to be good sports and they seem to understand that," she said.

The Rams battled with Grant for four innings before the Bulldogs pulled away in the NWSC contest.

"They capitalized on errors and we did not," Carmody said.

The only returning players for the Rams are pitcher and shortstop Erin Lopez and first baseman Megan Jeffrey, both seniors. "They both seem to get on base," Carmody said.

Jen Kiselica and Laura Smith collected extra-base hits in the season opener.

Newcomers include seniors Kelly Roberts at third base and Maria Ginnakakis at second base.

Pitchers are sophomores Smith and Melissa Lehann.

Carmody knows the talents of Hanna Frank well as she coached her as a frosh last year.

"She can play pitcher, left field or third base. She will help a lot. You can put her in anyplace and she will do well," Carmody said.

Another sophomore who could make an impact is catcher Jamie Akers. "She has doubled her ability as a catcher, she is marvelous," Carmody said.

Carmody may be new to the NWSC league battles, dominated by Johnsbury since Katie Parker arrived on the scene four years ago, but she is no stranger to softball, playing the sport since grade school.

Rams fans will have plenty of chances to see their favorites in contests next week. Grayslake has two North Suburban Conference teams to contend with, hosting Libertyville April 17 and Warren April 20. Carmel is also a non-conference home foe April 18. All games are at 4:30 p.m. at Central Park.

The lone NWSC battle next week is when the Rams hit the road for a game at Marian Central April 19.

"I told the girls I have played a lot of softball for a summer team and coached freshmen last year, but this is the first time for me as varsity coach. I thought I had some pregame jitters, too."

Doubles duo, Radebaugh pace Rams

An upper division finish at the Elk Grove tournament was what Grayslake High was aiming for and that was just what the Rams achieved.

Grayslake chalked up 11 points on a cold and windy Saturday as the Rams finished fourth. The week was a success in dual meet competition as well as the Rams downed Round Lake.

The first doubles team of Josh Shipley and Chris Wirsing gained a second place at Elk Grove, with a 2-1 record.

"They both did a beautiful job," Rams Coach Paul Keller said of the sophomores. "They are tougher than last year."

The duo beat Elmwood Park 6-4, 6-1 and then battled Crystal Lake Central's duo in tiebreak first setter.

Grayslake won the last two points to win 8-6 then came back with a 6-2 domination of set two. The Rams fell to Lake Park 6-1, 6-2 in their title bid.

Carey Radebaugh led the effort in singles with a third place at No. 1. He beat host Elk Grove's entry 7-6 (7-4), 6-1 and Lake Park 6-1, 6-3. "He attended camp over the summer and he has shown tremendous improvement," Keller said.

Ryan Bartz earned the third Rams medal, with a third place in third singles. He downed Crystal Lake Central 6-2, 7-5 and Warren 6-4, 6-0.

The Rams shutout Round Lake 5-0 in a Northwest Suburban Conference match.

Keller offered a thought about the cold, wind and rain and tennis.

"Many strings of rackets have had to be replaced, especially with the hard hitters," he said.

The Rams travel to Round Lake, weather permitting, for a NWSC match April 18. Keller was expecting tougher tests from Johnsbury and Wauconda in scheduled matches this week.

Rams frosh tracksters make strong impact

Unlike Gene Kelly, the Grayslake High girls track and field team may not have been "singing in the rain", but the Rams did begin defense of their Northwest Suburban Conference title well.

The Rams downed Marian Central 94-30 Tuesday as they adapted better to the steady rain than the folks from Woodstock called the Hurricanes.

"It was a pretty good meet," Grayslake Coach Joel Peebles summarized.

Michele Tessman won the 3,200 meter run for Grayslake in 13:23.5. "She won the race in horrible conditions. The rain has more time to weat on a person in a longer race and she is a very small girl," Peebles said.

Freshman Vanessa Nyland had a first-place finish She had a 16.9 in the 100 yard dash, her best effort and won the 300 low hurdles in 55.0. Classmate Jessica Kos was third in 58.4.

Freshman Robyn Boydston won the 100 yard dash in 13.2 in her debut there. "She is a tremendous practice runner - and has tremendous talent," Peebles said.

Senior Becky Eiden broke up the wins for the freshmen as she won the 400 in 1:03.5. Boydston, had another strong effort from the frosh, with a in 1:05.4.

"We have a ton of freshmen who are battle-hardened," Peebles said.

The Rams, 2-0 in duals, hosted their own meet April 13 with area teams Warren and Carmel among the eight-team field. The Rams will have their long-awaited battle with rival Johnsbury away April 17 and travel to Round Lake the next day.

"With the illnesses we have, putting the Johnsbury meet off a few days could have been the best thing to happen," Peebles said.

Sidekicks 'Team Extreme' continues winning ways

Sidekicks "Team Extreme" members representing the Lindenhurst martial arts studio dominated in a number of local and national tournaments.

Six students competed at the American Pro-Am National Championship. The martial arts students finished as follows:

- Randy Stevens, 7- to 8-year-old forms division, finalist;
- Niko Jefferson, 7- to 8-year-old sparring division, second place;
- Michael Jefferson, adult sparring finalist;
- Claire Pavelski, 15- to 17-year-old intermediate sparring division, first place;
- Valerie Stevens, women's brown belt sparring, second place;
- Sidekicks instructor Paul Haroian, black belt division, first place.

Pavelski and Terry Appel went to enter two Midwest circuit championships and finished with first-place honors.

Haroian and Pavelski traveled to Denver's Mile High Classic championship, where Pavelski took first place in her sparring division despite fighting in six consecutive matches. Haroian continued his dominance with a first place in the sparring division.

In addition, Valerie Stevens and Pavelski traveled to Muncie, Ind., where they competed in the King of the Ring championships. Stevens took first place in women's brown belt sparring, while Pavelski placed fourth in sparring.

Members of Sidekicks will be entering a number of other tournaments and championships, including the Battle of Atlanta April 29. Team Extreme, as they refer to themselves, seeks sponsors to help support the cost of competing. For more information, call 356-1424.

Antioch diamond JV girls lose 2 close games, win 1

The Antioch junior varsity softball team completed a busy week with one-run losses to Cary Grove (15-14), McHenry (7-6), and an exciting 13-3 come from behind win over Lake Zurich.

In both of the losing efforts, the Lady Sequoits squandered large leads, only to lose by a single run. The current record for the softball girls is three wins and two losses.

In the Cary Grove game, Laura Deutsch, Stephanie Haenchen, Linda DeSalvo and Jocelyn McRae hit safely for the Sequoits.

Against McHenry, Antioch collected 12 hits with Lisa Murphy, Jenna Eckert and McRae leading the attack with two hits each. Adding single hits were Michelle Poplin, Angie Pederson, DeSalvo, Liz Koeck, Sarah Rockow and Deutsch.

Haenchen allowed five hits with six strike-outs and 12 walks against Cary Grove, while Murphy gave up five hits with one strike-out and seven walks in the McHenry contest.

On Friday, Lake Zurich jumped out to a 3-0 lead after two innings. By the bottom of the fourth inning, the Lady Sequoits had taken a slim 4-3 advantage. In the home half of the fifth inning, Antioch exploded for nine runs and a five-inning 13-3 victory.

Leading the Sequoits with two hits were Deutsch (two singles), Rockow (triple, single) and Kristin Lynch (two singles). Murphy added a triple, along with singles from Koeck and DeAnne Dalgaard. Haenchen pitched five innings allowing four hits while striking out seven and walking one batter.

Lindenhurst Power downs Cary

The Lindenhurst Power U-14 girls soccer team opened its indoor season with a hard-fought 3-1 win over the Cary Defenders under difficult weather conditions.

Lindenhurst scored first, going against the wind, when Jamie Wismer was able to knock in a goal off a 1-2-3 play with passes coming from Teri LaRoche and Sara Richardson.

Cary scored its only goal a minute later when a crossing pass from a Cary attacker was deflected in the goal by a Lindenhurst defender.

The Power then scored twice in the second half.

Richardson was able to drive home a crossing pass from LaRoche, who got her second assist of the day. LaRoche scored the final goal a pass from Wismer.

The defense was led by Kristen Gamlin, Jourdan Philips and Ester Scheurrer who kept Cary from mounting any serious scoring opportunities in the second half.

Rams runners open strong in loop

The last time Grayslake High sports fans saw Jeff Neutzmann perform he may have been catching a pass. Or maybe darting through opposing team's special teams en route to one of his four kickoff returns for touchdowns.

On a rainy Tuesday, that quickness paid. The senior won both the 100 and 400 yard dashes as the Rams cruised to an 88-35 win over Marian Central.

"He has blazing speed. They tell me he did not have that until a couple of years ago when he started to play football. He is a burner," Rams Coach Joel Peebles said.

Neutzmann, headed to Valparaiso University to pursue his football goals, had an 11.5 time in the 100 and a 52.4 in the 400.

The meet was the Rams first of the season and opened with a Northwest Suburban Conference win.

Chris Persson won the 3,200 in 10:34.4 in what the coach called an "excellent" race.

Steve Swanson won the discus with a 114 feet, 3 inch heave and was second at the shot put.

Schools set to perform 'Oliver'

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

The 1995 spring play performed at Grayslake High School will mark a number of firsts.

In the current administration's memory, it is the first musical to be done at the high school for a very long time. This play will also be a joint effort using actors and directors from the high school and the middle school. And finally, the musical will be performed as a theater in the round, something many thought could not be done.

Middle School drama teacher Patrick Kerr will be completing his first year as director of high school productions, hand picking 'Oliver' and other plays to fit the theme of reunions. The idea of conducting a musical began when Kerr approached GCHS Principal Elizabeth McDonald with the concept. She was open to the idea and directed Kerr to Jennifer White, the choral director at the high school.

"She said she had been wanting to do a musical but did not want to take on the entire project," Kerr said. Kerr took on the acting direction, White the musical duties and the rest is history.

Kerr's preference for a theater in the round makes perfect sense to him, though it wasn't an easy sell to everyone. The play will be performed in the high school arena, using only general microphones for fill-in sound.

"Some people, including the kids, asked me why we aren't doing the play on a real stage," Kerr said.

Kerr likes the arena forum because it is a smaller, more controllable space, with superior acoustics. He says if he put the play on a 'real stage' he would have to rent thousands of dollars of sound equipment, which would be both expensive and spotty in quality. One special difficulty is theater in the round does lend for a greater directorial challenge.

Kerr is also pleased the advent of the musical this year at the high school is giving the students a special experience they can't replace. Musicals are magical.

"The musical is a true American art form. If we are going to celebrate art forms—even though it has now been accepted world wide—the musical's roots are right here in America," Kerr said.

The musical will be performed in the Grayslake High School arena April 20, 21, and 22 at 7:30 p.m. with an April 23 matinee beginning at 2:30 p.m. All seating is reserved with ticket prices set at $6.

Schools perform classic 'Oliver'

There will be plenty of music, glorious music as the Grayslake High School and Middle School perform the musical 'Oliver' April 20 through April 23 in the high school arena. The play is a classic piece set in the 1850s around a small orphan boy named Oliver Twist who has reverted to picking pockets for a living just to afford his next meal.

Because Oliver is the hero of the play and therefore deep down has a heart of gold, he is not a very good pick pocket. When leader Fagin sends the boys out on their first assignment, Oliver is apprehended just for looking guilty. The play involves Oliver's struggle to escape the seamy underworld and be reunited with his benefactor.

Performance times are 7:30 p.m. April 20, 21 and 22, with an April 23 matinee at 2:30 p.m. All seating is reserved with ticket prices set at $6.

The cast of characters are: Fagin, sophomore Eric Demos; Nancy, senior Elaine Battle; Bill Sykes, senior Sean Johnson; the Artful Dodger, sophomore Josh Shipley and Oliver Twist, double cast with seventh grader Mark Fletcher and senior Jodi Smith. Producing the play are musical director Jennifer White, director Pat Kerr, conductor Dom Bertino and technical director Tod Eckstrom.—by NEAL TUCKER

Antioch High hosts Arts Festival

The Antioch Community High School Art Department will be hosting the Eleventh Annual North Suburban Art Festival on Friday, April 21. The public is invited to attend and admission is free. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and continuous entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

Forest preserve volunteers plan recruitment day

Lake County is home to more endangered species than any other in Illinois because of its unique habitats. Learn how your hands-on work can help save these habitats and maintain natural areas in Lake County at a Volunteer Stewardship Network Recruitment Day on Earth Day, Saturday, April 22, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Spring Bluff Forest Preserve in Winthrop Harbor.

At the recruitment day, volunteers will tour the site, learn how to join the Volunteer Stewardship Network and enjoy refreshments. All ages are invited to this free Earth Day event. Reservations are not required.

The Lake County Volunteer Stewardship Network is a cooperative project of the Lake County Forest Preserves, the Nature Conservancy and the Illinois Nature Preserves Commission. Each year, hundreds of volunteers put in thousands of hours cutting brush, pulling weeds, collecting and sowing prairie seeds and other important tasks. Some of the Lake County Forest Preserve sites where volunteers regularly assist with restoration are Lyons Woods near Waukegan and Beach Park, Wadsworth Prairie near Wadsworth, Ryerson Woods near Deerfield and Cuba Marsh near Barrington.

For further information about the Volunteer Stewardship Network or the recruitment day, call Tom Smith, forest preserve conservation volunteer coordinator, at 948-7753, ext. 212.

Why throw it away when you can sell it?

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

It's sometimes difficult to unload unwanted items you don't want to send to the landfill. They could be items cleaned out of the garage, from a child who has outgrown their belongings or from an estate of a relative. And if you hate hosting your own garage sales, you'll be saved by nothing short of a public auction.

Fortunately, there is a public auction, located in Waukegan on Green Bay Rd, designed to serve Lake County residents with these specific needs. The Auction Market will take anything from cars to coins and since it opened earlier this year, it has established an excellent success rate.

"The patrons usually buy everything we sell. If it is not sellable, we know it ahead of time and don't take it," said owner Rich Diamond.

For years, Diamond owned the Buyer's Market in Lake Villa on Sand Lake Rd. The business dealt strictly in the area of selling antiques. With the advent of antique retail shops dotting the landscape there slowly became fewer items to sell.

"There are no more antiques for the auction business," Diamond said.

In the process, Diamond continually got requests to sell other things, many of which were common household items. He saw an opportunity and remodeled a large building at 550 Green Bay Rd. between Washington St. and Grand Ave. on Waukegan's west side.

The first auction was a smashing success. The parking lot began filling at 8:30 a.m. for the 10 a.m. auction. The room inside was packed with 350 people.

"Everything sold. We sold over 500 lots and prices were soaring," Diamond said.

Diamond advertises he will auction, on a commission, items such as cars, boats, antiques, collectibles, real estate, general merchandise from dealers, coin-operated amusement games, and farm and heavy equipment. He See AUCTION page C2

Lake County EDC, bank to sponsor executive breakfast

Lake County businesses interested in learning about global economic trends and what they need to compete on the information super highway are encouraged to attend an executive breakfast.

Co-sponsored by the Lake County Economic Development Commission (EDC) and First Midwest Bank, N.A., the fourth annual breakfast will take place from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 2, at Country Squire Banquet Facility, 19133 Rte. 120, Grayslake. Two keynote speakers will address an expected 200 business leaders.

"We have lined up dynamic speakers who are experts in their fields," EDC Chairman Harry Pettengill said. "The executive breakfast will offer a tremendous opportunity for businesses to hear about the latest technical advances and economic conditions."

Jonathan L. Kramer, president of Communications Support Corp., Encino, Calif., will discuss the information super highway and how technological advances are dramatically changing the way in which Americans live and conduct business. He also will give a demonstration of the Internet. A licensed engineer, Kramer is recognized as a leader in the telecommunications industry.

He also helped develop the national technical standardized testing manual to determine compliance with FCC rules. He is a senior member of the Society of Cable Television Engineers, and is a fellow of the Institute for the Advancement of Engineering. He has been an expert witness testifying in federal and state court cases on cable matters, and has published a book and magazine articles on cable television technology.

The second speaker will be David R. Allardice, vice president and director of regional programs and statistics at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, who will provide an overview of the Illinois regional economy within the context of the national economy. He also will discuss aspects of the global economy that have significant implications for Illinois and the region. Allardice joined the Federal Reserve Bank's research department in 1974.

Allardice has been writing about issues relating to the Midwest economy and is a frequent speaker throughout the See EDC page C2

Extras can add up

We really think we've made it when we can buy that brand new home! After all, we've been qualified to make the mortgage payment and we have the money for the points and closing costs. Sure there are plenty of things, like furniture and appliances you will want to buy right away, but there are other items you will want to budget for when buying a brand new construction. A new home is pretty much a "vanilla box" without any decorating, and it is so easy to dream about the ways you will want to personalize it to make it yours.

Sounds exciting, doesn't it? The thing to consider is not just can you afford to buy the new home, but will you have enough cash to buy the many things you'll need to go with that new home? Here are a few things to bear in mind when considering a new purchase, besides the cost of the mortgage.

A brand new home is a lot like a diamond, waiting to be polished to a new brilliance. The "facets" to consider are the hundreds of items that need to be done, that are already done/in an existing home that has been previously lived in. You probably won't find a coat hook anywhere in a brand new home, or a shade or blinds. Switch plates are the ordinary plastic ones, and not upgraded for character or texture. Paint is generally a primer and maybe a coat more in a brand new home. This means any additional customizing or upgrading needs to be figured into your budget.

Window treatments, like shades, blinds, draperies or simple curtains require advance planning, plenty of measuring, and dollars as well. Even custom shades will require a fixed amount of dollars per window to at least provide privacy without even a fashion statement! Think about adding at least a couple of thousand dollars to your initial cash outlay to cover windows with more than bed sheets. This, of course, will depend on the number of windows in your new home, how customized you will need to get and the actual cost of the fabrics. Don't forget to include the costs of curtain rods, valances and labor if you are not so great at putting them up yourself. An existing home most likely will have some treatment already on the windows, and will not require an immediate cash outlay.

Landscaping a new home is another way to reduce "move-in" liquid funds. Depending on the builder allowances, a new home will be needing a newly seeded lawn or sod in the front yard. Many builders will offer one tree per lot in their "package." If you are like most homeowners, you will be anxious to get your home looking attractive on the outside as well, and will want to take advantage of the first "growing season."

The local nursery loves new construction homeowners because they are such great customers. New mulch, flowers, bulbs, shrubs and trees are readily purchased to embellish a bare new yard. You can really appreciate why a mature tree with a few years costs so much more than a sapling. Be sure to figure a landscaping allowance into your cash outlay budget when figuring what you will need upon moving in to a new home.

St. Therese contributes $4M to needy

Collectively, the four hospitals and two nursing homes of Franciscan Sisters Health Care Corp. (FSHCC) contributed $17,333,000 to help the poor during the organization's 1994 fiscal year, according to Gerald P. Pearson, FSHCC president.

Of this amount, $3,950,000 was provided by St. Therese Medical Center of Waukegan, the majority going for unpaid costs in the Medicaid program, according to Tim Selz, STMC president.

In addition to these funds, FSHCC facilities absorbed $27 million of unreimbursed costs for treating Medicare patients, spent $2.4 million to provide free health services to the broader community and $2.2 million for medical education and research.

Auction

has also auctioned items for retailers and manufacturers who have a warehouse full of items they can't sell in stores. Just like what urged him to open the auction, his business is still market driven. Even though he did not initially advertise auto sales, he says he was pressured by a landslide of requests.

"I was forced into it because demand tells me what to do," he said.

Now, for $50, people can drive their car through a waiting line of buyers and generally leave with cash. Cars can be available for buyers' perusal for several weeks in advance if the owner desires. Other merchandise should arrive at least several days before a Saturday auction so it can be tagged and entered into the computer. The Auction Market's commissions range from 10 percent up to 25 percent.

Diamond will also perform charity auctions at no commission. The only thing he charges is a small building fee if the auction takes place on his property.

Diamond credits his initial success to the clients who have attended the auctions. He calls them knowledgeable people who know what to buy and what it is worth. Because of this he has sold some items the sellers did not originally think were worthwhile.

"One estate had six Walt Disney Halloween costumes still in the box. The boxes were a bit beat up but the costumes were brand new. They were going to throw them away, but I straightened up the boxes and sold the lot for $120," he said.

Those interested in selling items at the auction market can reach the business at 625-1200.

Prevent car theft with VIN etching

The 28 Chicagoland CARSTAR stores will sponsor a vehicle identification (VIN) theft prevention program with Globe/US Auto Glass, Hanover Chicago, D.A.R.E. and M.A.D.D. The program was instituted based upon the realization that auto thefts are a serious crime problem nationally as well as in the Chicago area. The etching promotion will be conducted to increase community awareness as well as to offer one solution to help curtail the growing trend of auto thefts.

The process of etching is quite simple. A small stencil of the VIN is made on a small piece of plastic. The stencil is then used as a guide to chemically etch this number onto all major glass portions, including T-tops and sun roofs. The number is etched in an inconspicuous location on the vehicle, but easily identified by a would-be thief. The number is permanent and cannot be removed without destroying the entire piece of glass. This makes the various parts of the car with glass less valuable to thieves, thereby reducing the chance of theft.

Through this program, Hanover Chicago has experienced a dramatic 65 percent reduction in vehicle thefts over the past five years. As a result, the insurance community has been able to pass along the savings to its customers by decreasing comprehensive premiums by 5 percent and at the same time increasing the etching credit up to 20 percent.

CARSTAR is a nationwide franchise of independently owned and operated collision repair centers. There are 28 in the Chicagoland area and over 350 facilities in over 35 states. CARSTAR prides itself in professionalism and industry knowledge, boasting its nationwide five-year warranty. Most locations are technically trained to the highest possible accreditation of Inter-Industry Conference on Auto Collision Repair (I-CAR) Gold.

CARSTAR, Globe Glass, D.A.R.E. and M.A.D.D. are offering consumers a service valued at $60 for $15 at CARSTAR locations all over the Chicagoland area. A third of all proceeds will go directly to D.A.R.E. and M.A.D.D. local chapters. Those interested in having their automobile VIN etched should call Casten Body Shop, Inc. of Lake Zurich at 438-3030.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been unemployed for the past seven months and for the first few months I searched actively. Friends tell me that I seem to be procrastinating and that I am lacking enthusiasm. My unemployment compensation will be running out soon and with the job market the way that it is, I seem to need new direction. I find myself sleeping until late morning, and by that time I tell myself it's too late to start calling companies. I make appointments for interviews and find myself making excuses for why I shouldn't go. I make the attempt to go through the newspapers each day and make calls for appointments to interview but I believe I need a kick. What can you suggest for someone in a slump? A.L. - Lakemoore

A: Dear A.L., Know that your problem is a common one. It is best to bring yourself to understand that unemployment compensation is not "vacation pay". Yes, you definitely appear to be in a slump. Start by setting your alarm clock tomorrow morning to awake at 6:30 a.m. Get yourself up and out of the house to take a brisk walk or exercise to get your adrenaline pumping (kind of like getting your engine started). Make tomorrow (not the day after) the day for a change. Go through your closet and take out your best interviewing suit or outfit suitable for interviewing. Make sure that it is clean and pressed so you are sure to look fresh and make a good impression. Next take a look in the mirror. Do you like what you see? If you feel you need to get your appearance in order (haircut, etc...) do so. If you are short of the cash it takes to get this done, look in your local yellow pages for a beauty school. Most often they will give you a cut and style free of charge or for a minimal fee as they have students training for their licenses. Do not be afraid...these students are supervised by professionals. Take a look at your resume...after seven months of being unemployed, you should have one) be sure that it is updated. Check for errors, proofread...proofread...proofread. Errors are most unacceptable. Don't sit at home sending resumes through the mail. This is an exercise in futility after this length of time unemployed. Your time will be better spent if tonight you sit and circle those ads that you see in the paper that you can be prepared to call on for an interview first thing tomorrow morning. Set a specific amount of time to be on the telephone. Get those interviews set up leaving yourself time to get from one to the other. Try to avoid any overlapping. Set appointments only if you intend to keep them. Don't waste other people's time...you have already wasted enough time of your own. Make sure before interviewing that you have a good healthy "I want to work" attitude. Network!!! Let friends and relatives and anyone who may be of help know that you are avidly seeking employment. If you make a change in yourself, the rest should fall into place. Good luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

SUNDANCE 3

Stately two brick columns enhance the solid exterior appearance of the 2206 square foot Sundance 3. This imaginative floor plan makes excellent use of the space available. Attractive brick arches frame the two-car garage, which contains 300 square feet of unfinished storage area in the rear.

A huge outside planter catches your eye as you make your way into this beautiful home. The lower floor plan is arranged in a manner that can be adapted to fit many family situations. This floor has two bedrooms and a full bathroom along with some built-in desk, would be perfect for a college student. This room could also be converted to a home office, with the other bedroom handy for overnight visitors. Or perhaps the entire bottom floor could serve as an apartment for aging parents. The choice is yours.

Open space is the feeling that is communicated on the functional and elegant upper floor. The location of the walk-in kitchen will surely please the cook in the household. Meals can be easily served directly into the adjacent dining room, complete with side buffet, or at the handy eating bar. Other kitchen features include a walk-in pantry, microwave and desk.

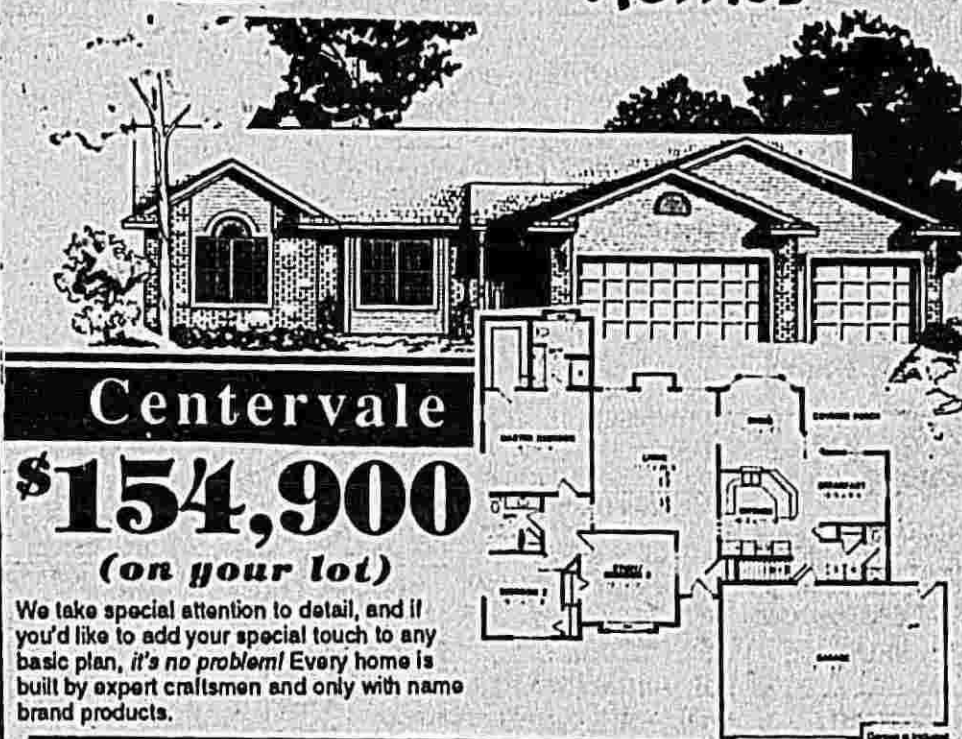

The large, comfortable living room is where friends and family gather. Whether enjoying good conversation or watching the latest video on your built-in entertainment center, a good time will be had by all. To savor the solitude of a good book, there is a study with enough shelves to house your entire library. When the weather allows, take the fun out on the back deck.

Separating the living room from the spacious master suite is a bathroom with linen storage, and across the hall is a secluded window seat and book rack. A nice, quiet place to spend a rainy afternoon.

The sizeable master suite, isolated for maximum privacy, has windows for both a front and back view. Amenities here include a huge walk-in closet with shelves galore, a private bathroom and separate vanity.

For a study kit of the SUNDANCE 3 (403-36), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Take 1995 Dream Home Survey

It is once again time to call upon your expertise. Landmark Designs in partnership with Lakeland Newspapers invites all to share in "The Dream Home Survey."

When it comes to knowing what you want in a home, your home, you are the only one that knows.

The form below makes the process easy and fun, whether you're planning to build or not. It includes types of questions architects, designers and real estate agents commonly ask to determine their clients' needs and desires.

The more information we get from you the better job we can do designing your Dream Home. Include letters, sketches and/or any comments or inspirations that come to mind.

Once the results are totalled, Landmark will custom design a home to meet the exact specifications selected by readers of Lakeland Newspapers. If there is an overwhelming number of responses, Landmark will come up with three plans—small, medium and large.

Mail forms to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402.

Take precautions to save pets from dangers of heat stroke

Every year canine and feline pets die from heat stroke. Usually this is the result of animals being left inside vehicles on hot, sunny days. Automobile windows convert solar energy into heat by the "green house effect." Pets left inside vehicles will experience a significant rise in body temperature, and as the pet's temperature goes above 106 Fahrenheit, severe harm can be done to the body, especially the brain. This whole process can happen in as little time as five minutes on hot sunny days.

Unlike humans, pets are not able to regulate their body temperature by perspiring (sweating). Their only means is through panting and this is very inefficient, therefore pets are much more sensitive to stroke than are people.

During the hot summer months, you should leave your pet at home. Don't be swayed by that soulful "can I go with you" look that only your pet can give.

If your pet must accompany you, certain precautions must be taken. Park in a well-shaded area and give your pet plenty of cross-ventilation. Be sure to check on them frequently, as the shade will move. A supply of cool water is also advisable.

Heat stroke doesn't just happen to pets that are locked in the car. An overly-exercised pet can also suffer heat stroke.

Symptoms are elevated body temperature, rapid heart rate, panting or gasping for breath, widely dilated eyes, staggering gait, convulsions, collapse and sometimes vomiting.

Which pets are most at risk? Those most susceptible are overweight and short-nosed dogs, dogs with heavy coats, young puppies, older pets and those with heart or kidney problems.

What should you do for a pet in heat stroke distress? First aid measures must be undertaken quickly. First move the animal to a cool, shaded area. Lowering the core body temperature is essential. This can be accomplished by wetting the dog with cold water. Cold compresses can also be administered to the back of the neck and abdomen. If possible, a cold water enema is very helpful. After first aid treatment, the pet should be examined by a veterinarian.

Remember, heat stroke can often be prevented by following some common sense rules:

Never leave your pet unattended in a vehicle; exercise your pet during the cooler times of the day; and be especially careful if your pet is long-coated or in the high risk group.

You'll be glad you did!—by CATHY SABIN, Owner BC Dog Training Grooming and Pet Supply, Mundelein

Cougars fans show devotion on first home game chiller

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

They came early to Elfstrom Stadium in Geneva Sunday and came, for the most part, prepared for the frigid weather of opening day.

For the 5,524 fans who attended the first home baseball game of the season between Kane County and Beloit all must have been diehard fans to watch nearly three hours of a 2-1 Kane County loss in 40 degree halved by windchill weather.

"We went to a lot of games last year," Frank Glas said as he, Mary and Alex watched from the third-base side.

"I went to about 10-12 games last year. We live in Batavia, five minutes away. It also takes five minutes to park your car and walk up to the park," Bob Johnson, here with his 9-year-old son, Mike, said.

The major league baseball strike did not seem to have an impact on the amount of Kane County Class A games many plan to see - if and when baseball weather comes.

"It is the family atmosphere," Rose Hazsels said. She was with her son, Keegan, who is as old as the baseball franchise, four.

The Cougars are shooting for the Midwest Baseball League attendance record this year, and with promotions every inning - from Billy the Bird dancing with the Beloit Brewers third baseman, then the home plate umpire, to minor league staples such as dice for slice (of pizza) and spin the bat, the Cougars could have had a few thousand more if Mother Nature had cooperated Sunday.

Players began the season by throwing baseballs into the crowd and the Cougars' mascot, Ozzie, was in his mid-season form with many colorful antics. The pre-game autograph sessions remain popular.

"They have some great players and some good prospects," Dick Brunton, of Batavia, said.

Prices remain reasonable.

The most expensive ticket is $6. A hot dog is $1.50; a jumbo hot dog $2.50; a sub sandwich $3.50; and the most expensive fare is a $3.75 steak sandwich or on the Mexican menu, an Enchilada dinner and taco salad both go for $4.

But what about this weather?

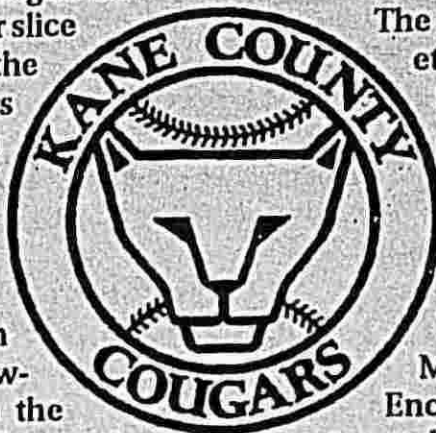

"It is worse for the players and the coaches just sitting around in the dugout in between innings. You just try and get from inning to inning," Cougars Manager Lynn Jones said.

Jones has played baseball in colder weather in Canada, north of Montreal and for many Cougars from the likes of San Jose, Calif., the Dominican Republic and Florida, this was certainly not the baseball weather they had come to expect.

The manager was pleased with his teams' split with Beloit in the first two contests. Two first inning runs for Beloit stood up as the Brewers had some excellent defensive plays.

"They were kind of watching the stuff going on in the field. See COUGARS page C23

split with Triton

A rough start to the Skyway Conference season but a non-conference win added up to a split decision for College of Lake County women's softball team.

Beth Smith was the winning pitcher as CLC downed Triton 14-4. Triton won the other game 6-1. Smith fanned 3 and walked only one in gaining her second win.

Tricia DeWitt led the 12-hit attack with a 3-for-5 game; Vicky Wyatt was 2-of-4 and Jen Pitcher and Smith had two hits each. Erin Klein contributed a double.

The Lancers scored 8 runs in the third inning to improve to 3-9 overall.

The Lancers dropped an 8-2 decision to Morton in the league opener.

"They got 6 runs in the first inning with three errors and a couple of doubles," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

The Lancers scored one of their runs as Nicole Pollard doubled followed by singles from Kerri Petricig, Tricia DeWitt and Vicki Wyatt.

"Wyatt and DeWitt hit the ball well in Arizona - Vicky was at .435. Kerri hits the ball well, but we have been keeping it in the infield and not hitting the gaps," Garcia said.

Garcia said she would like to see more consistent play, especially on defense.

The Lancers are at Kishwaukee for a non-conference clash April 15.

Lake Zurich Junior grapplers compete at state

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Five months of dedication, conditioning and top-of-the-line wrestling paid off for five members of the Lake Zurich Junior Bears Wrestling Club who took to the mat at the Illinois State Kids Wrestling Federation Tournament.

Jerad Karlen of Round Lake walked away a state champ in the senior, 79-pound division.

Also competing in the state championship at Red Bird Arena in Normal were: Mike Zagorski of Hawthorn Woods, Brett Wapotish of Barrington, Andrew Idrizovic of Lake Zurich, and Charlie Ullrich of Long Grove.

"He's like a sponge. Everything we showed him he did, and he won," Wrestling Coach Mitch Sheppard said of his state champ, Karlen.

Idrizovic is a first-year wrestler who competed as a 101-pound novice. He also won the team's Most Improved Award. "For a first-year kid, you couldn't expect any more from a kid," Sheppard said.

Ullrich, an eighth-grader, has been wrestling for six years. He wrestled in the 115-pound, senior division. "My goal was to get Charlie ready for high school, which he finally is," Sheppard said. "His technique is phenomenal."

At state, Wapotish wrestled as a 62-pound novice. "He's a hard worker, and he listens to instruction. Overall, he's got a lot of raw talent."

Moving from New Jersey, this is Zagorski's first year with the club. "He earned his respect this year. He's going to be a kid to watch in the future," Sheppard said.

The Lake Zurich Junior Bears Wrestling Club trains and coaches pre-high school wrestlers who want exclusive coaching and who want to compete against other wrestlers considered to be a step better than junior high school grapplers.

"We try to teach the kids: The harder you work, the more it's going to pay off," said Sheppard. "And you can see it in their eyes, that, my god, it works."

Sheppard is joined by Eddie Idrizovic, Jay Check and Chip Ullrich, all of whom volunteer their time to coach wrestling. The Lake Zurich Bears Junior Wrestling Club offers a three-year program for young wrestlers who believe they want to continue with the sport at higher levels.

"All the kids are my kids. If they lose, I lose," said Coach Idrizovic, whose son Andrew advanced to the state competition.

"I do it for the love of the sport, to pay back something to the sport," said Sheppard, who does not have any kids in the program.

The kids trained, conditioned and competed for five months for the collegiate-style of wrestling which was highlighted by the state tournament. They are now training for Greco Roman or freestyle wrestling.

"They all learned the lesson that they have to work hard to get where they're at," Sheppard said.

Carmel's first ESCC test tough: champs Joliet Catholic

An all-East Suburban Catholic Conference state championship was not too far from reality last June.

Both Carmel High and Joliet Catholic advanced to baseball's version of the Elite Eight in Geneva but Carmel was ousted in the quarterfinals while the Hilltoppers went on to win it all.

"We were a couple of wins away from playing them in the state title game. They won the state title with seven juniors and we have seven juniors this year. It will be a good barometer of how we stack up," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

If Mother Nature cooperates with something even closely resembling baseball weather, a large crowd could be on hand at Carmel for the 10:30 a.m. doubleheader April 15. It will be Carmel's ESCC opener. Carmel posted a 4-2 non-conference record, downing Woodstock 7-3 and 8-0 Saturday.

"I'd say we are playing better and looking pretty solid," Gandolfi said.

Andy Mikrut gained his second win of the season against no defeats in game one. He pitched a six-inning shutout after giving up a 1-0 lead and held the visiting Blue Streaks to 4 hits. "He is a control type pitcher," Gandolfi said. "He looked good with 6 strikeouts and no walks."

Pat Glynn was too much for the visitors in game two. He fired a 3-hitter as Carmel scored 4 times in the fourth and sixth innings.

Ryan Dham, who had a 2-run homer in the second game, Kevin Russell and Brad Salata are the leading Carmel hitters.

"We are hitting as a team. We have nine guys who can hit and three or four off the bench. If there is a lefty, we can have a righty lineup. If it is a righty, we can have a lefty lineup," Gandolfi said.

Ames gained the win in a victory over Highland Park.

Like all teams, Carmel has been impacted by the cold and wet spring. A non-league game with Warren High was canceled last week.

"The weather hurts us because we have not had a chance to see all the pitchers in clutch situations," Gandolfi said.

Joliet Catholic figures to provide more than a few.

Potter three-peats at motorsports show

MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Correspondent

For the third consecutive year, Landry Potter of Genoa City captured top honors in the 18th annual Let's Go Racing Motorsports Show.

Potter's 1995 Ford Thunderbird scored the highest points from the judges from among the 52 entries in the show at Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan. The Larry's Mobil Service of Waukegan Best Appearing Overall Championship Award was presented to Potter to conclude the awards presentation.

"I have to thank my new car owner, Jim Coats of Racine, Wis., as well as the crew and all of the sponsors who help up get the car to the show," said Potter, who competes regularly at the Lake Geneva Raceway and won the best of show award in 1993 and '94 as well.

"I'm excited to have Landry driving for me," said Coats. "The award means a lot to us because it recognizes a lot of time and effort which went into the car and display."

Awards, sponsored by Toft Auto Racing's Wilmet Speedway, Kevin Dawson's Lake Geneva Raceway and Lakehurst Mall Merchants' Assn., were presented to the top two finishers in points awarded by a panel of eight judges. The judges based the points upon appearance, completion and showmanship.

First places were awarded to Division I-Tim Cox of Park City (United States Auto Club non-winged sprint car), Division II-Joe Palmsano of Franklin, Wis. (Eastern Wis. Stock Car Assn. modified), Division III-60-year-old Jim Sullivan of Ingleside (mini-modified), Division IV-Charles Roberts of Beach Park (Outlaw Rascal) and Division V-Dennis Vito of Crystal Lake (Lake Geneva late model).

Other first place winners included Division VI-10-year-old Pete Llamas of Beach Park (junior dragster), Division VII-Matt Roebuck of Gurnee (WMSA mini-sprint), Division VIII-Brett Welker of Plainfield (The Time Machine front engine dragster), Division IX-Rich Gertz of Lake Villa (BMARA midget) and Division X Denny Norton of McHenry (Monster Truck).

Second place finishers were Division I-Kurt Davis of West Allis, Wis. (Wilmet sprint), Division II-Kevin Olson of Waukegan (MRA modified), Division III-Duck Wack of Silver Lake, Wis. (mini-modified), Division IV-Mark Higby of McHenry (Outlaw Rascal) and Division V-Bobby Gash of Evanston (Illiana Speedway late model).

Other second-place winners were Division VI-brother/sister team of eight-year-old Kenny Jr. and 10-year-old Laura Johnson of Salem, Wis., Division VII-Tony Deieso of Wadsworth (mini-sprint), Division VIII-Mike Faser of Naperville (Chicago Fire nitro-fuel altered funny car), Division IX-Dave Holden of Zion (IMCA modified) and Division X John Safran of Brookfield, Wis. (Legend Car).

Russ Egan of Gurnee had a two-car entry of a sprint and a restored winged super-modified.

Ken Losch of Lake Villa and Jim Chapley of Northbrook each had Formula Indy cars.

Harry McGuire of Antioch had a mini-modified. Outlaw Rascals were shown by Jack Schaal of Island Lake, Jim Rieger of Round Lake and Jim Neeve of Beach Park.

Ten-year-old Kimbra Starr Fuesting of Beach Park had a junior dragster. Bob Turner of Beach Park had a super stock Camaro with a unique "hands-on" simulated drag racing "Christmas tree."

Kirk Fehrman of Gurnee (modified), Lonny Roy of Zion (modified) and Cliff Kamm of Kenosha, Wis. (mud racer) compete on dirt.

A restored nostalgia dragster from Bernie Leonard of Antioch and a Vega pro-gas from Marc Dunn of Zion were among the drag racing entries. Steve Hazelrigg of McHenry had a Dodge Dakota 4 x 4 show truck.

Jeff Beck of Libertyville, the 1994 U.S. Auto Club Formula 2000 Class B national champion, had his title-winning car, a first of its kind for the show.

"The show ran the smoothest it ever has in its 18-year history," said Mike Babicz of Babicz Auto Racing Services (BARS), which promotes the show. "All of the entries looked great. The participants were very cooperative. I wish to thank everyone who helped to make it the largest and most diversified show of its kind."

Timely hitting holds key for CLC hopes

It is not that the College of Lake County baseball team is not hitting. Timely hitting, that is another topic altogether.

"We need someone to step up and get a hit with two outs. No one has come through with two outs," Coach Gene Hanson said.

CLC started the week with a 17-8 record, 1-1 in the Skyway Conference. CLC started league play with a split against Morton, winning the second game 2-1 after losing the first 4-0.

Scott Schupp of Grayslake gained the win in the second game as he fired a 4-hitter with 5 strikeouts and no walks. "He was in total control the whole game," Hanson said.

Eric Blaha was the hitting hero for the Lancers as he clubbed a two-run homer for the winning margin of victory in the fourth inning. Matt Pulaski had walked.

Blaha, an Antioch grad and Bob Olson, a Warren High grad, are two of CLC's leading hitters as they are over the .400 mark in batting. Jeff Randall is also hitting well.

"The rest of the offense is sporadic. We need more than three guys out of nine if we expect to win," Hanson said.

Bret Bowles pitched well in the first game loss, Hanson said. "He did a nice job, but made two mistakes - a home run and a 3-run homer," Hanson said.

CLC topped Northwestern 6-4 in the last game which was played in somewhat close to baseball weather.

Olson was 2-for-4 with 2 RBIs and Curt Salata was 2 for 3 with an RBI and Steve Taylor had an RBI single. Rob Brooks gained the win for his second win against no losses.

CLC is hoping a homestand will allow the Lancers to find that consistent hitting stroke. They host Illinois Benedictine at 1 p.m. April 14, McHenry in Skyway play at 12 p.m. April 15 and Truman at 12 p.m. April 16 before traveling to Joliet April 20.

"We are playing OK and the conference should be interesting," Hanson said.

Stolarick proves steady for Carmel softball hopes

Control is an important asset for any pitcher, and that is just what Carmel High's Beth Stolarick has shown in the early going.

"It is her consistency. Her strength is she is right in the strike zone. Her number of pitches has been very reasonable," Coach Kay Keehn said.

The Corsairs have split the first four contests. Carmel won 13-3 over St. Scholastica and 13-1 over St. Barbara but lost to Stevenson 19-1 in the season opener and to Barrington 19-5 to a regional powerhouse. Stolarick has all four decisions.

Offensively, Karen Scherman at .555 batting average and Bridget Johnson at .500 have been getting the job done. "Their hits have been coming with runners on base. They have 10 RBIs each," Keehn said.

Hitting before those two have been Becki Straka and Brandi McKinney. Both have .600 on-base averages.

Keehn has noticed progress by the team's outfield as well.

"We started slowly in the outfield with a lot of new people. I thought that would be our weakness. But we have shown tremendous progress," Keehn said.

Cougars

There is a lot of things that happen, but they played well. I don't think they let the butterflies go. They were more concerned about the cold than anything. They battled their way through it," Jones said.

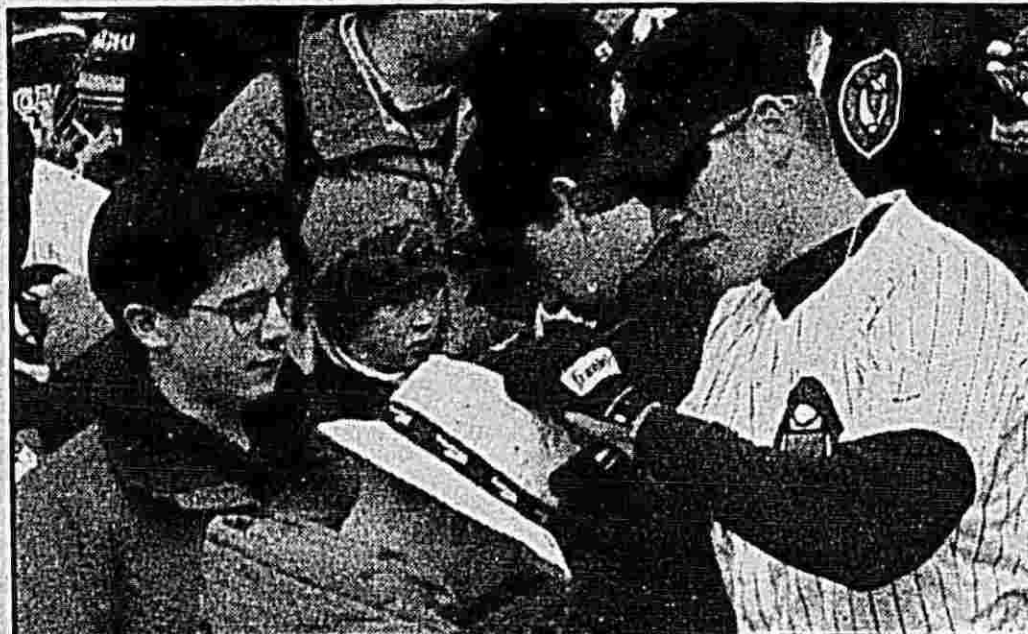

"Anytime we get a man to third or second base no outs we need to get him over, and they had a couple of breaks and we did not," he said. "You have to remember they are youngsters. We are more concerned with development."

The Brewers snuffed out a Cougars start when the second batter was thrown out trying to stretch a single to a double. In the fourth inning, a flyball to left resulted in a double play and in the seventh, Beloit's Scott Krause made the pivotal play of the game when he threw out a runner trying to score on a single.

"The guys played well defensively. I can not say enough about our defense," Beloit Manager Dub Kilgo said. "We played well yesterday (a 7-5 loss to Kane County), but we had a couple of mental lapses."

Only a few diehards remained - including a few guys sans shirts - when the Cougars tried to rally with two seventh inning singles. But Krause's play put an end to that and the last six outs were made routinely.

Baseball fans with Good Friday off may check out the Cougars-Peoria game at 2 p.m. The next home game is not until Beloit visits again at 7 p.m. April 21. Perhaps the Brewers will have some weather which actually resembles baseball season that day.
